A Devotional Moment

"Favouritism"

My brothers and sisters, believers in our glorious Lord Jesus Christ must not show favouritism.

JAMES makes it clear to his audience that caring for the poor and powerless is not optional for Christians. He was following the teaching of Jesus which said:

'Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven' (Matthew 5:3)

Matthew's Gospel also records Jesus saying:

"Love the Lord your God with all your heart ... " And... "Love your neighbour as yourself" (22:37, 39)

These words of Jesus remind us to love the poor, to love our 'neighbour' – no matter who that neighbour turns out to be, James gives an example of two people entering a meeting – or church service – one obviously very rich; the other wearing filthy rags. We are to treat both equally, not showing any kind of favouritism. In fact, we should be caring more for the one who is poor – making sure his or her physical and spiritual needs are met.

In some sense, the way we behave towards people gives an indication of what we believe about God. If we show love towards all people, we reflect God's abundant love – showered upon his people. If we accept those in our church who have messed up, we are expressing God's grace in a beautiful way. If we show love towards the vulnerable, we are following the direction of God's Word – which tells us to love the poor, to love our neighbours, Showing favouritism in families can break a family apart. Showing favouritism in the workplace, in places of education, in a church, can cause disunity and inner conflict. James reminds his people:

If you really keep the royal law found in Scripture, 'Love your neighbour as yourself,' you are doing right (v 8).

In Remembrance

Colonel Ian Swan was born in KwaZulu – Natal, South Africa from where he began an international journey of discovery that would take him around the world to experience the ministry, service, and contextual expressions of The Salvation Army in all five of its Global Operational Zones. Colonel Ian served God through The Salvation Army first as a lay Salvationist then 38 years as a commissioned officer. As noted above, his ministry encompassed all five Salvation Army zones and his lived discipleship as an educator and leader bore much fruit for the kingdom of God.

An educationalist by professional training and conviction, Colonel Ian greatly enjoyed partnerships with fellow educators, NGOs, and Government Partners who strive to create and support holistic transformational change for individuals and communities. This passion is married to a strong commitment to listen to stakeholders and communities of practice so that grassroots ownership and accountability are mutually understood. Colonel Ian served previously as the VP Academic Dean of Booth University Canada, as a member of the Board of Directors for the United Wesleyan Graduate Institute HK, and a member of the Board of Directors for the Macau University College of Social Work.

While Ian's parents, Majors Alendander and Jeanne Swan were posted in Ottawa, the family attended Ottawa Citadel. During those years Ian, as we knew him then studied at Carleton University. The leadership Colonel Swan has provided over the years and most recently as co-Director of the International Social Justice Commission has been truly remarkable.

A Celebration of Life for Colonel Ian Swan will be held at 10:30 a.m. in the Calvert Room, Territorial Headquarters Canada and Bermuda Territory on Saturday, August 23rd, 2025. Please remember in prayer Colonel Wendy. Son Jason and daughter Brianna, as they grieve the loss of a beloved husband and father.

Jean Beer

Jean Beer was a regular attender at our Sunday worship services as well as the Ottawa Citadel Seniors' Luncheons. She was described as a very kind and friendly lady who enjoyed gathering with the friends she had made at the Corps. This picture of Jean was taken in November of 2024. Ruth Emeribe reminisced about Jean's having "treated Waverly, Martha, and me to a delicious birthday dinner! I really miss her." What more fitting tribute can friends offer for a colleague lost from their midst.

A private family grave-side service was held for Jean.

71. The Holy Spirit

“And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever; Even the Spirit of Truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you. Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more, but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also. At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me and I in you... If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him... But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father shall send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance; whatsoever I have said unto you.” (John 14:16-20, 23, 26 KJV)

“Nevertheless, I tell you the truth: it is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you, but if I depart, I will send him unto you. And when he come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment... I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that he speak: and he will show you things to come. He will glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall show it unto you. All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I that he shall take of mine, and shall show it unto you.” (John 16:7-8, 12-15 KJV)

“...wait for the promise of the Father, which” saith he, “ye have heard of me. For John baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence... It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power. But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.” (Acts 1:4-5, 7-8 KJV)

Left: Simon steps out of the Bass section to introduce the Songsters' next selections: I Will Love the Lord and Swing Down which featured Melissa Simard's singing of the soprano obligato part

The Ottawa Citadel Timbrel Brigade was absolutely outstanding as they did their drill to the march, Norwich Citadel. If you weren't present, you have to watch the video on You Tube!

Top Row: The Timbrellists are marched in by the Band and then begin their drill. Second Row: The Brigade begins its drill featuring a great deal of mobility. Third Row: The drill is concluded and the ladies march out. Their precision creativity was superb.

Following the Band's selection, See What a Morning, the Songsters sang a beautiful selection – I Have seen the Glory of the Lord (at left).

Major Erin Verhey reprised the words of the Songster selection in a very effective Devotional.

Spring into Summer – Review Concluded

The final selection from the Songsters was a very powerful message in the composition, He Will Hold Me Fast.

The final selection by the Band was a lively number entitled, Song and Dance.

Major Gerry acknowledged the contributions of all the groups and individuals whose combined efforts made the Spring Into Summer concert such an uplifting event for everyone.

The musical feast ended with the congregational song, My Great Redeemer's Praise to the glorious tune, Grimsby and the sung benediction entitled – Benediction – a selection written by Canadian Staff Bandsman, Phillip Rayment.

His blood can make the foulest clean,
His blood avails for me.
His blood avails for me.
His blood avails for me.

Out and About in the Community

Ruth Emeribe reported that earlier in July, Johnnie and she were out for a drive when they saw Marlene Hope walking close to her home. As it turned out, Marlene mentioned that she had a book for Marg Peppy who has been shut in for some time. Ruth agreed to deliver the book to Marg and, while chatting, Ruth and Johnnie were invited into Marlene's home. This led to meeting Marlene's husband, Hugh. He was happy to show them his beautiful flowers – a garden of which he is justifiably proud.

The pictures below were taken during the visit:

Johnnie and Ruth prepare to leave after a pleasant visit.

Some Summer Thoughts on Leadership

My word! Summer is more than half spent. Have you, in your leadership routine, taken a break? Rest is an essential part of our lives. Without it, we deny our body, soul and mind of the opportunity to refresh and renew our energy and more importantly, do a check of whether our leadership behaviour is in line with God's will – not only for our personal goals but for the direction we are helping guide our group to achieve.

This entire matter of assuming the reigns of leadership once more, was jolted as I read Captain Leah Fowler's devotional piece in the Words of Life for July 16th. The Scripture portion about which she was writing was from Exodus 33:12-19 which she titled Moses moments. Here are some excerpts from that devotional:

"The account of Moses in the Old Testament is one that strikes a familiar chord from young children to Bible scholars. (I guess that would include you and me. ed) Moses was a man on a mission. He overcame the most unlikely of circumstances, faced the most overwhelming of obstacles and experienced first hand the joys and challenges of leading God's people. He saw miracles, he witnessed God moving and he was equipped by God to do mighty things."

"With all of that in mind, with all of that power in hand, Moses could easily have taken the reigns. We see it constantly in the chronicles of God's people and, if we are to take an honest account, in the timeline of our own lives. It's the cycle of faithfulness, sin, repentance and returning to the Lord, and ending as a one-man or woman race.

It's the temptation of independence. The quicksand of self-reliance.

When we consider service for the Lord – visions of mission – we must take great care to ensure it is the will of the Lord and not self-seeking. That it is serving his people and his Kingdom, not looking for earthly praise and pats on the back, both individually and as a movement.

What did Moses do in these moments, when the next steps seemed uncertain? He sought the Lord: 'The Lord replied, "My presence will go with you, and I will give you rest."

Some Summer Thoughts on Leadership - Concluded-

None of us can, nor should we, assume or aspire to be a Moses. What we ought to do is prayerfully consider our goals and our openness to the leading of Holy Spirit as to where our group should go in the coming season and then share it with our group. Even better, demonstrate that you are serious about this commitment by gathering a representative group of your team to create a committee willing to review the progress being made and identify potential adjustments that might be needed. Above all, this committee should communicate the goals and progress being made with the rest of the group and, where appropriate, with the entire congregation. By following a pattern of behaviour like this, every member of the group will understand his or her role in achieving the goals of that group.

Here are a few guidelines for being the most effective leader that you, with God's help, can be:

- Interact as often as you can with members of your group to ensure a caring positive relationship is being maintained.
- Be vigilant that your leadership style is adaptable – responding appropriately to the situations that arise and ensuring you listen to concerns that are expressed.
- Always – always remember that you are only one person and you won't have the answer for every situation that arises. That's why you need the option to ask your committee or the group as a whole for advice.
- There is efficient leadership and there is effective leadership. The former style is necessary on occasion because circumstances sometimes arise that require immediate action but be aware that this should not be your pervasive style. Effective leadership may require a bit more time but ensuring that the group knows what's happening and why is critical to creating and developing a sense of ownership of what the group is doing. Doing everything yourself as the leader is largely an exercise in futility because no one is taking a measure of the group's support. The membership comes to expect that the leader will do everything and communication sometimes becomes woefully ineffective. (Remember, on the world stage both historically and currently, one individual as the sole leader often becomes dictatorial in behaviour – not something we would want in our church setting.) So.... as a leader, remember, the more you involve your group members in planning, the fewer problems you will have with people who aren't onside with the course of actions taken.

To our leaders and leaders-to-be, thank you for all you do. Please enjoy a rest at some point this summer. We pray for you and appreciate the wisdom and talents you bring to your role.
